Get the understanding, meaning, and history of the Military Oath of Enlistment.
It's more than words, so Own Your Oath!

What does it Mean?

I (state your full name) do solemnly swear (or affirm)...: Signifies a public statement of commitment, where you personally accept complete and total responsibility for your decisions and actions.

...that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States...: And the officer says this, too. Because none of us are not swearing to support the President, the Country, the flag, political party, or a particular service branch, but rather the Constitution, symbolizing all these things. Have you read the Constitution lately, or ever?

...against all enemies, foreign and domestic...: Be prepared for current and future wartime operations, kinetic or otherwise. (Service Before Self, with Self fully ready)

...that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same...: Officers pledge allegiance to our Nation's citizens and the Constitution that empowers them, not a military service branch, government, or organization. (Service to our Nation's Ideas Before Self)

...and that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States...: So you acknowledge the President as the presiding authority over what you will and won't do!

...and the orders of the officers appointed over me...: And you acknowledge the officers commissioned by the President and confirmed by the Senate as passing along the President's orders to you through the chain of command structure that exists. This benefits the Nation's Citizenry and our elected officials!

...according to regulations and the Uniform Code of Military Justice. It exists to ensure discipline in the ranks so as to efficiently and quickly execute the orders given. And those orders are authorized from the power granted by the citizenry to elected officials over military personnel.

So help me God (optional): Signifies truth and commitment to what you have sworn to in your oath. It is a call to a higher being or divine agency to assist with ensuring your own integrity and honesty regarding your Oath.

Unpacking Your Military Oath of Enlistment (Joint Military, One Oath)

There are many different Oaths, but all include some form of formal declaration or promise to fulfill a pledge, often calling on a higher being, or a sacred object as witness to truth, commitment, sincerity of your statement and promise; with an implication of divine judgment in the event of falsehood or breach of obligation. Oaths call on a higher power to perform to the best of our ability, a sense of honor (without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion), and consequences of failing to live up to one's word and duty. Such declarations began during ancient Roman times. Many pledged loyalty to a specific general officer for a specific campaign. That's not what we do today as US Armed Forces Officers, however.

Oaths began in the U.S. in early colonial days. In the 1600s, the Pilgrims established the Mayflower Compact—which served as an oath, a covenant, and a constitution. It's noteworthy that during the Constitution against all enemies, including domestic ones.

We've, unfortunately, been hyper-focused on foreign threats through our own cultural biases, historical focus, and entertainment industry. That leads us to focus on the word "foreign" and neglect to consider many of the domestic threats that are apparent, if we'll only look. The founding fathers were adamant about economic matters. Roman soldiers demanded pay in "sound money," at the time that being precious metals such as gold or silver.

They recognized then, as drafters of the Constitution recognized in the late 1700's, that a sound economy begins with the honest management of the medium of exchange in markets for products and services. They knew from history that unsound money created "by decree" of the government was detrimental to the population and citizens who put a governor in place.

Because of this, we're seeing our cost of living increase drastically while our incomes from the federal government continues falling way behind. Additionally, we're storing our life savings, in fact our energy from the jobs we've performed, into Wall Street held financial services vehicles that are putting our life's energy at grave risk. It's our life's energy because we trade our time, imagination, knowledge, and experience in a job for single paychecks measured in the fiat currency, which is produced at will by the federal government and the banks. This only skims the surface and is central to any sense of Liberty and Freedom you desire to enjoy once you leave military service, and during it, too.
